

Brad Scott

Director, Emergency Preparedness and Insurance Management
University of North Texas

As the Director of Emergency Preparedness and Insurance Management at the University of North Texas, Brad Scott leads multiple teams within the Department of Risk Management Services. Brad's teams continually coordinate with internal and external partners to develop programs, plans, and processes to mitigate, prepare for, respond to, and recover from events that threaten the campus community. Most importantly, these efforts are focused on protecting personnel, property, and operations.

Prior to earning his bachelor's degree in Emergency Planning and Administration, Brad served in the U.S. Army, attending the JFK Special Warfare Center and graduating from the U.S. Navy Explosive Ordnance Disposal School. Brad ended his military career as the Non-Commissioned Officer In-Charge of a 44 person Explosive Ordnance Disposal Company. In this role, Brad was responsible for coordinating with local, state, and federal agencies to protect elected officials and foreign diplomats throughout the U.S. and in support of the United Nations General Assembly. Brad is a Certified Risk Manager and Associate Business Continuity Planner. He has been recognized for his emergency management efforts in the City of Denton and also serves on the executive committee for Heroes of Denton County; focusing on providing immediate support to families of fallen public safety officers in Denton County.
