

Daniel Grundei has been with Gartner for 2-years and collaborates with Higher Education clients across Texas to ensure Gartner service is fully aligned with client's IT and business strategies. Prior to Gartner, Daniel worked in Higher Education digital publishing, at Pearson Education to help faculty transition to digital learning tools to support student learning. Before getting into Higher Education, Daniel was a Product Manager for CBS Interactive where he was at the forefront of the eSports movement – and was even featured on an ESPN Television show, Madden Nation, which explored professional gamers.