

David Reynolds - Biography

David Reynolds, PE., F.SAME, Associate Vice President for Facilities, University of North Texas, directs facilities activities supporting the academic, research and community support missions of the University of North Texas and its 38,000 students. Mr. Reynolds leads a 330+ person team in the maintenance, repair, construction, alteration and operations of approximately 175 buildings comprising 7 million+ square feet and located on 900 acres of grounds. Additionally, he is responsible for activities including fleet management, energy management, grounds, solid waste, recycling and custodial services, residence hall and dining maintenance and repairs, as well as capital and strategic planning of facilities.

Mr. Reynolds joined the University of North Texas in 2013, following a 30 year career in the United States Air Force where he led both facilities teams and installation support teams consisting of facilities, emergency management, environmental services, IT, Human Resources, security/police, procurement and logistics. He holds multiple degrees from Georgia Tech, Midwestern State University, Clemson University and the U.S. Naval War College.